TO KEEP TRUCKS OFF FIFTH-AVE.

THE PROPOSED ORDINANCE FAVORED ONLY IN A MINORITY REPORT PRESENTED TO THE ALDERMEN.

Majority and minority reports from the Commit avenue for trucks and heavy vehicles from Twenin the second se Buffalo, and nearly all civilized cities, restricted for the pleasure of the people. The report further insists: "The exclusion of trucks from a street does not turn that street over to any privileged or exclusive class at all. It does not rob the people of any part of their universal a meeting at No. 335 East Fourth-st. to-morrow at 4 p. m. to discuss the topic, "Philanthropy and municipal Life."

Andrew D. White is to deliver an address before riages would add to the beauty and fineness of a street, in which there should be universal civic

The ordinance, as amended, it is argued, "allows entire freedom of approach to any part of Fifth-ave by wagons having business to do there. It restricts the street only as a thoroughfare between points above and below the restricted limits. When Fifth-ave, shall have been paved with asphalt in the immediate future, the desirability of the proposed restriction will become a necessity to save the avenue from the almost exclusive use of the heavy vehicles which will go to it as a thoroughfare, when they might perfectly reasonably be asked to use Seventh, Eighth and the other parallel avenues instead, thus leaving Fifth-ave, as the only beautiful boulevard of approach from downtown to Central Park for the safe and sightly use of all citizens, poor and rich alike. In this way only can we maintain Fifth-ave, as a street which can be pointed to with civic pride as a monument to the foresight and wisdom of the municipal authorities.

ument to the forcelight and wisdom of the municipal authorities.

"The main opposition to the proposed ordinance comes from the residents of Madison-ave., for whose property rights and interests the undersigned have the greatest respect and sympathy; but the undersigned feel that the proposed ordinance will not injure Madison-ave, property, inasmuch as the situation and grade of that avenue are not such as to attract other traffic than that which already goes there.

"It is objected that few persons have appeared at the public hearing in support of the proposed ordinance. But it is confidently believed by the undersigned that public opinion, as indicated by the spoken and printed words of all classes of citizens, is in favor of this ordinance, whose sole object is to maintain, for the use of our citizens at large, a beautiful southerly approach to our greatest public garden."

The majority report was signed by Aldermen Noonan, Schilling and Wund. It declared that there appeared to be no person or interest that desired the restriction, and that, so far as the majority could see, there was no call for it, in view of the numerous protests made to the committee at the public hearing.

Both reports were laid over and ordered to be printed.
